14-10-2009

The Secretary General of the European People's Party (EPP), Antonio López-Istúriz, today met in Brussels with Jordanka Fandakova, candidate of GERB for Mayor of Sofia and current Minister of Education, Youth and Science.

López-Istúriz expressed his support to Fandakova since "she has the right political skills needed for this position".

"The new Primer Minister of Bulgaria, Boyko Borisov, did an excellent work over the last years as Mayor of Sofia, and I am convinced that Jordanka Fandakova will continue in the same line for the benefit of the citizens. GERB is the best political option to deal with the challenges that Sofia and Bulgaria has ahead, both domestically and in the framework of the European Union", the EPP Secretary General stated.

López-Istúriz also welcomed "the fact that the Borisov's government is promoting female candidatures for top positions such as Jordanka Fandakova for Mayor of Sofia and Rumiana Jeleva for European Commissioner".
